1. Introduction

The IAS Professional Course Phase-I programme has two main components - the Winter Study Tour and classroom-based academic inputs including select field visits. This manual focuses on the Winter Study Tour (WST).

The IAS Professional Course Phase I (2011-2013) has 155 IAS Officer Trainees. This includes 149 members from the 2011 batch, four from earlier batches and two from the Royal Bhutan Civil Services.

All Officer Trainees have been divided into ten groups for the eight week-WST (Annexure-I) from 17th December 2011 to 10th February 2012. Each group travels to different parts of the country as per the detailed itinerary in Annexure-II.

2. Winter Study Tour – Objectives

The WST is designed to impart experiential learning to IAS Officer Trainees through travels across the country and attachments with different institutions. This is once-in-a-lifetime experience where you would travel over 20,000 kilometers to fathom the diversity that constitutes India. The objectives of WST are as follows:

- To enable you to appreciate the linguistic, historical, ecological and cultural diversity and heritage of the country.
- To expose you to functioning of different agencies and institutions in the country, especially those with which you are likely to interact after assuming substantive charge.
- To enable you to develop a pan-Indian perspective and understand the role of the IAS in governance and development of India.

The main attachments planned during the WST are summarized below:

- 1. The defence services Army, Navy and Air Force.
- 2. Public, private, cooperative sector institutions, non-governmental organizations and reputed national institutions.

- The defence authorities may make arrangements for your stay in field conditions. Such places would have only rudimentary facilities. You are expected to put up with the rugged living conditions, which in itself would be a learning experience.
- Flippant or discourteous behaviour leaves a bad impression about the civil services in the minds of defence officials. Any misconduct of this nature would be viewed very seriously by the Academy.

The Officers' Mess

The Officers' Mess of each unit is an institution that influences lives of defence officers. The Officers' Mess is a common home for all the officers of a unit and its customs and traditions instill a strong sense of esprit-de-corps amongst them. When invited to the Officers' Mess, please bear the following in mind:

- You must be punctual and reach the Mess few minutes before the prescribed time.
- Unless otherwise indicated, Gentlemen Officer Trainees should be in formal wear – tie and coat or closed collar coat. Lady Officer Trainees should be in sarees. Never the Mess in bathroom slippers/chapels is prohibited.

 with all others present. You should not discuss controversial subjects like religion, politics and avoid talking 'shop'. Be a good listener. Never indulge in gossip.

- Due care for personal safety should always be taken.

4. General Guidelines for WST

Please bear the following points in mind.

- The WST is an official engagement. While on tour, you are the representative of the Academy and the Service. The host organization and the local administration would closely observe your conduct in various attachments. Your conduct will also be under close scrutiny of co-passengers, the general public, and members of the media. In rare occasions, indiscretions committed by group members have been reported in the media. You should ensure that your conduct during the WST is impeccable. Polite and courteous behavior, even in the face of provocation, is the hallmark of a good civil servant.
- The host organizations/agencies make a lot of effort to make the programme a success. Even if some parts of the programme do not go as planned or are not up to expectations, you should still appreciate the positive efforts of the organizers and not find fault with the arrangements or show displeasure in any manner. All these arrangements are made as a courtesy to the Academy and the Service, which should not be abused.

- Please ensure that you are punctual for all scheduled engagements. Late arrival, unauthorized absence, unacceptable behavior and misconduct would invite serious administrative action, which could include summary discharge from training and the Service.
- No leave shall be granted during the Winter Study Tour. Faculty Members would join you at various places during the WST.
- Each group should work out an action plan to make the tour convenient and enjoyable. You should carefully consider and decide on the baggage and other accessories that need to be taken considering the duration of the tour and extremes of weather in different parts of the country. Each group should carry first-aid boxes and essential medicines.
- Please carry your ceremonial and formal wear for occasions such as calling on dignitaries and Republic Day celebrations.
- As a member of the group, please study the tour itinerary and identify places of interest in various cities which you could visit in your free time.
- While the Academy has made every effort to provide you with the names and contact details of Collectors of Districts that you would be visiting, it is advisable that you re-check the list and include contact details that may have been missed.
- The Group Leader should remember to call the District Collector upon arrival and thank her/him for the hospitality prior to departure. If time permits and based on the Collector's convenience, the Group should try and formally call on the Collector.
- The programme has been drawn up with meticulous attention to detail. However, there could be some unanticipated problems with rail reservations, train or flight delays, reception arrangements and accommodation. Please make it a point to reach the airport/ railway station sufficiently in advance. In case of unforeseen exigencies, the Group is expected to handle such situations with maturity and to the best of their judgment.
- Wherever a group faces difficulties, including sudden illness, etc., please contact the local District Collector concerned and seek her/ his assistance. The groups should also be in regular telephonic contact with the Academy where the in-charge Deputy Director at Mussoorie and staff of Training-II section will be available for assistance.

any contingency during the WST.

5. The Group

- Each WST group has a maximum of 16 participants. Each group has a designated Group Leader, Alternate Group Leader, Treasurer and Alternate Treasurer.
- One of the widespread criticisms of the IAS is the inability of its members to function in peer groups. Any deviant behaviour that affects group dynamics would be construed as misconduct.

The Group Leader

The Group Leader represents the group and the Academy in all the attachments. Her/his duties and responsibilities are as follows:
